

Scholarships for Latino & Hispanic Students

September 2, 2021

Paying for college can feel like a daunting task, especially if you're not sure where you'll come up with the funds. One way to cover the costs of attending college is to look for scholarships.

Depending on your situation, there are a number of different scholarships available, including scholarships for Latinos. If you have Latino heritage, you could qualify for money for school.

Scholarships for Latinos

There are a number of different scholarships for Hispanics and Latinos. You can look at resources like Scholarships.com and FastWeb for ideas of different Latino and Hispanic college scholarships. You might also find other scholarship ideas based on other characteristics and qualities.

For those looking for Latino or Hispanic college scholarships, here are some of the available options:

Hispanic Scholarship Fund

The Hispanic Scholarship Fund offers scholarships for Hispanics all the way up through graduate-level classes. This scholarship may be helpful for those who are already in college and looking for ways to supplement their funding, as well as those who are just starting up.

Scholarship amounts range from $500 to $5,000. You need to meet GPA requirements and a few other simple conditions in order to qualify.

The Randy Falco Scholarship

Receive up to $10,000 if you get the Randy Falco Scholarship, which is offered by the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences. This scholarship is specifically aimed at Latino and Hispanic students who hope to have a career in the television industry when they finish school.

Society of Hispanic Professional Engineers Scholarship

If you're interested in STEM fields, you can apply for one of the many scholarships available through the Society of Hispanic Professional Engineers \(SHPE\). You do need to check the specifications of the scholarships available, since some of them require you to be a member of the SHPE in order to qualify. You might also need to meet GPA requirements and fulfill other criteria.