HOPE SCHOLARSHIP

In loving memory of Valerie Grace Wheeler

Yesterday is but a dream, tomorrow is only a vision; but today, well lived, makes every yesterday a dream of happiness and every tomorrow a vision of HOPE.

Valerie Grace Wheeler learned that she had cancer when she was barely a teenager, having celebrated her 13th birthday a few short months before receiving the harsh news of her diagnosis of metastatic Ewing's sarcoma.

Words seem inadequate to describe this exceptional young woman. Friends and family called her Val, while many called her "Amazing Grace." Astounding everyone with her determination, courage, positive attitude, and spiritual strength, Valerie touched hundreds of people throughout her experience with cancer. She died June 25, 1999, at age 15, before she could begin her sophomore year of high school.

Valerie was an honors student at Sam Rayburn High School, a talented artist, an outstanding athlete, and most of all, a person who had true compassion for others. Because of her faith in God, she believed in the hope that each new day could bring.

The Hope Scholarship seeks to recognize outstanding young people like Valerie who value education, believe in service to others, and have worked hard to overcome obstacles in the course of their studies.

Only Texas residents may apply. Applicants (seniors) must have experienced the death of a sibling or parent. (We are unable to consider the death of grandparents and other extended family members, such as step-parents.) This educational scholarship must be applied to expenses related to college, technical, or trade school. Application deadline is Friday, March 24, 2023. All applications must be postmarked by March 24, 2023 to be considered. Absolutely NO EXCEPTIONS.

Essays Guide

These are important suggestions to consider when writing your essays.

Community service essay

Community Service: This is a very important segment of the application.* PJH seeks to recognize and reward students who have made significant contributions to the community in spite of their own personal tragedy.

Applicant should express:

- A clear understanding of the value of community service and impact that community service has had on his/her personal life.
- The amount of hours, varied activities, and skills acquired through service to community

If lack of community service is due to significant economic challenges placed on the family due to the death of family member, employment may be considered in lieu of community service. If this is the case, explain where you have worked, the amount of hours, activities, and skills acquired through employment.*

Obstacles essay

Economic, social, emotional, psychological - any and all of these are relevant categories.

How have you responded to all challenges in your life? You must include an explanation of the impact of the death of your immediate family member on your life.

Goals essay

Include a very clear description of your college plans. Be specific. Provide an indication of major (or areas of emphasis) even though you may still be considering more than one field. Be sure to indicate your future career path.  Why have you set these goals?

 No value judgments will be made regarding the value of a particular career compared to another. For instance, becoming a doctor is no more credible than becoming a business owner, plumber, or educator.*
